Read the text about electronic cigarettes and answer the questions on the following page.

Tobacco users worldwide are finally discovering the Electronic Cigarette. People working in small towns and big cities to the biggest movie stars are using them, but are they really a _____ and cheaper alternative to traditional cigarettes? Can they be the answer to quitting smoking? Actual users say they're now enjoy this healthier cigarette without the bad smell, second-hand smoke, and most importantly the cancer causing chemicals. With these big claims, we decided to investigate the new technology for our readers.	1 2 3 4 5 6 7
Let's look at some of the claims of the electronic cigarette:	8 9
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Contains zero tar, tobacco, carbon monoxide, and ash.• Delivers the same amount of nicotine as real cigarettes.• Can be used in bars, airports, restaurants.• Each cartridge costs less than £2 and is equivalent to an entire pack of cigarettes.• Average users can save over £1,000 each year.• You won't "smell" like a smoker any longer.• Emits harmless water vapour. No second-hand smoke.	10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19
We looked to expert medical doctors and product users and found out what they had to say about electronic cigarettes and the results were surprising. Joel Nitzkin, Chair of the Tobacco Control Task Force for the American Association of Public Health Physicians concluded that "...if we get all tobacco smokers to switch from regular cigarettes to electronic cigarettes, we would eventually reduce the US death toll from more than 400,000 a year to less than 4,000, maybe as low as 400."	20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27
Four very well-known doctors, from the popular TV show "The Doctors" also studied the electronic cigarette and it was even featured as one of their top 10 key health trends.	28 29 30 31
"If you're one of the millions of people out there and you're addicted to smoking, there may finally be some hope for you. The electronic cigarette gives you nicotine, but it doesn't give you any of the other 4000 chemicals that can cause cancer among other problems." Dr Travis Stork from "The Doctors", June 2013.	32 33 34 35

Read the article about losing weight and answer the questions on the following page.

Should you lose weight fast?	1
When you're trying to lose weight, it's tempting to want results as fast as possible. But remember, very rapid weight loss is unlikely to help you to maintain a healthy weight long-term. And it comes with health risks.	2 3 4 5 6
You can monitor your weight loss progress using our healthy weight calculator. If you're trying to lose weight, you're probably keen to see, and feel, a difference quickly. It can be tempting to put your trust in one of the countless schemes that promise rapid, easy weight loss. Unfortunately, even if these fad diets do help you to lose weight, you're unlikely to maintain a healthy weight in the months and years afterwards.	7 8 9 10 11 12 13
If you're visualising a future in which you've shed your excess weight, the best choice is to make healthy changes to your diet and levels of physical activity that lead to a safe, steady rate of weight loss, and that last a lifetime. Weight loss tends to plateau after a while and you may need to make further changes. If after six to nine months you haven't achieved a healthy weight, talk to your GP for advice on the next steps.	14 15 16 17 18 19 20
Safe rates of weight loss	21
If you're trying to lose weight, the safe weekly rate of weight loss is between 0.5kg and 1kg. That's between around 1lb and 2lb a week. Lose weight faster than this, and you are at risk of health problems that include malnutrition and gallstones, as well as feeling tired and unwell. Fad diets (that involve simply changing your diet for a few weeks) associated with very rapid weight loss are also unlikely to lead you to a healthy weight in the long-term.	22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29
Take action	30
You can learn more about the diet and physical activity changes that can lead you to a healthy weight future. Remember: the goal is not overnight success. The secret is sticking to the changes you've made, and you can find useful tips from real-life slimmers in the article about weight loss motivation. You can monitor your progress using our healthy weight calculator. This interactive tool calculates your body mass index (BMI), which is a measure of whether you are a healthy weight for your height.	31 32 33 34 35 36 37

Read the article about London and answer the questions on the following page.

London is the capital of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland. It is situated in the southeast of England, sitting along the River Thames. Inner London, Outer London and the City of London form the Greater London area, which is the London we usually talk about. It has an area of 1600 square kilometres with a population of 7.5 million. It is divided into 33 districts. The city has a mayor, a parliament and a city hall.	1 2 3 4 5 6 7
This historic city was built in 43BC by the Romans. In around the 1st century AD, under the reign of Rome, England used the River Thames as a vital traffic line, and built the city construction along the banks of the river. Even now people can see the ancient walls left by the Romans. The ancient Romans abandoned the city in the 5th century, and later Angles, Saxons and Danish people all wanted to occupy the city. William the Conqueror invaded the city in 1066 which ended the war. In 1087, William the Conqueror built the Tower of London, which is a well-known tourist attraction all over the world.	8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16
The 12th and 13th centuries were extremely important in the history of London, because London became the hub of government during this period, which lay the foundation for the prosperous London in the Middle Ages. Westminster Abbey, St. Paul's Cathedral and many law schools were built in this period.	17 18 19 20 21 22
It enjoys a glorious history in the 16th and 17th centuries, during which the culture and power of this nation had been improved a lot. Then, the Protestant Reformation, the peasant uprising, and the Civil War happened one by one. The Black Death, the Great Fire of London and the breakout of the Second World War brought severe damage to this city. However, no matter what adversity it was facing, this city survived. Today, London has lost its dominant status in the world, but it is still attracting people from home and abroad.	23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30
Many people get to know the Tower of London, St. Paul's Cathedral, Buckingham Palace, and the British Museum, even though they have not been to London. I think everyone has a London of their own after visiting this place.	31 32 33 34 35

26. According to the text, which statement is true?
- There were many banks built in Roman times
 - There were many banks built along the River Thames
 - The city was founded by the Romans
 - The city was built in 1 AD
27. When could you first study at a law school in London?
- In 1087
 - In the 12th century
 - In the 16th century
 - In the 17th century
28. What is meant by 'glorious history' in line 23?
- It is a period of growth for the country
 - This period in history is very tragic
 - There was no cultural significance during this period
 - The country lost its power
29. What tragic event is not mentioned in the text?
- Fire of London
 - The Black Death
 - World War I
 - World War II
30. Which is the oldest landmark in London mentioned in the text?
- Buckingham Palace
 - The Tower of London
 - Roman Walls
 - St. Paul's Cathedral
